Code	PREPX206
Name	English in Mythology 200
Hours per week	2
Credit Value	2
ECTS	3
Level/Year	English Prep.
Type	Elective
Prerequisites	PREPX100
Description	The aim of this elective is for students to learn about mythology in English, especially through Reading, Speaking and Writing. They will add to their general/cultural knowledge by becoming familiar with some types of texts with mythological themes. This will help them to develop an appreciation for mythological and fantasy writing in English. It will also improve their ability to express opinions in English.

Objectives

- Expanding students' vocabulary both general and subject specific;
- Teaching analytical reading skills through exposure to a wider range of text types than in the Prep. Program's main courses;
- Improving learners' ability to express opinions;
- Giving learners an opportunity to write creatively;
- Encouraging students to read more extensively and follow their interests in a more self-directed manner.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of English for Mythology a student will be able to:

- LO1. use more words, especially from a course list of subject-specific lexis.
 LO2. categorize ideas in very short literary texts;
 LO3. express opinions related to themes expressed in a variety of literary texts;
 LO4. produce a short piece of creative writing such as a description of an imagined mythological tale; character portraits; or a reflection on a piece they have read;
 LO5. better infer mythological fiction in English
